HISTORIC DOWNTOWN NEWBURGH VISITORS GUIDE

HISTORIC DOWNTOWN NEWBURGH INDIANA
Charming & Unique.
All the rest is history.

Settled by John Sprinkle in 1803, the historic town of Newburgh evolved from the first town settled in Warrick County, Indiana to a busy river port between Cincinnati and New Orleans in the mid 1800's. Today it is a quaint and charming 21st Century Community still firmly anchored to its early 19th Century beginnings.

The hustle and bustle that shaped so many generations here has faded with the advent of faster, more efficient modes of transportation, but the charm, quaintness and hospitality remain.

This federal style home was built around 1841. A Newburgh Walking Tour Guide is available in print form or online.

Whether you spend a few hours or a few days in this celebrated community, you'll appreciate the opportunities for dining, shopping and unwinding that are available here.

Enjoy your visit and make plans to return not once, but often. You are always welcome in Historic Downtown Newburgh.
